Connecting Graduates And Deployed Personnel

Through the marvel of technology, a strong partnership with the command, and the generosity of donors and volunteers, many deployed Soldiers will watch high school graduation ceremonies and send personal messages to their graduating children. As a family support initiative, The Department of Defense Dependents Schools in Europe has partnered with United States Army, Europe, and other military and civilian activities to broadcast high school graduations to the desert, enabling Soldiers in Iraq to see events in real time. Fourteen DoDDS-E high schools in Germany, whose graduations are scheduled June 3 to 6 (including Patch American High School), are involved in the initiative.

This event is an example of how the USAREUR and DoDDS-E "go the extra mile" to take care of Soldiers and families. The result has been a wonderful partnership in the family support arena that helps students better cope with deployments and family separations. DoDDS-E HS principals are soliciting e-mail messages from deployed Soldiers who are parents of or acquainted with graduating seniors. Their intent is to give at least one personal message with each diploma that is presented to a graduate whose parent or loved one is deployed.

Security Checklist To Fight Terrorism

Instruct family members and associates not to provide strangers with information about you or your family; do not give unnecessary personal details to information collectors; restrict personal data when using the Internet; be alert to strangers who are on government property for no apparent reason; report all suspicious persons loitering; vary daily routines to avoid habitual patterns; be cautious about giving out travel plans or security measures and procedures.

ICE Program Requires Customer Input

Did you know that when you submit a response to the Interactive Customer Evaluation system, your response is compiled immediately into Internet-based reports that are available to the entire chain of command that runs the service? To access the ICE system and voice comments about community facilities and services, go to the 6th Area Support Group Web site at www.stuttgart.army.mil and click on "ICE" at the bottom of the page.

DOL To Survey Customers

Current ways of obtaining customer feedback are for the customer to submit comment cards, enter online ICE comments, or contact managers. Although the Directorate of Logistics believes that these strategies are great ways to get responses, they want to do even more to ensure the services they provide surpass customer expectations. To do this they are beginning a program of randomly contacting customers and surveying them regarding their experience with DOL services and service providers. They will use the responses from the survey to make the necessary changes that will ensure customer service is always exceptional. In addition, they will periodically publish results of the survey to keep the community informed about their progress. For more info call Rick Jarvis at 421-2452/ civ. 0711-729-2452.
